Kahari was born and raised in Calgary and grew up playing soccer locally in the CMSA. There, Kahari played tier one growing up and went to multiple provincials with his former club Blizzards. Currently, Kahari is going to the University of Calgary for business.

Kahari started coaching at 16 and has kept at it since going off to post-secondary school.

"I like coaching because I enjoy working with the youth and helping them develop as players and people. I currently have my C-License and am looking to obtain more license to grow as a coach and further my knowledge."
