Director

UEFA Children's

Coaching Licence

Stephanie was born and raised in Glasgow Scotland and has over nine years of coaching experience and played competitively in post-secondary school. "Soccer is my life! Coaching allows me to build new relationships and challenges me to learn and improve every day. It has also allowed me to travel the world and experience new cultures," says Stephanie. "However, my coaching philosophy surrounds creating a positive environment for players to develop and thrive. Not only do I want to help the players improve their soccer skills, but I also aim to help them grow to become the best versions of themselves. Soccer can change lives!"

"I am a huge advocate of Women's Soccer. I believe as a female coach in soccer, I have the ability to empower and inspire the next generation of female soccer players. I have already made a significant impact on women in sports at a community and national level in Scotland. I believe I can make the same or even better impact on women's soccer in Canada. I will do so by creating equal opportunities for all women in soccer, regardless of age, race, background or ability."
